WITH FIFTY MILLION IN SIGHT FOR EMPIRE STATE ROADS, ERIE COUNTY OBJECT LESSON IS FOCUS FOR ENGINEERS

A glimpse of typical Erie county highway and William C. Perkins and George C. Diehl.

Permanence is to be the watchword in spending a major part of the fifty millions now available for New York state roads, owing to the success of what is known as the Erie county policy. Under Engineers George T. Diehl and William C. Perkins, Erie county which surrounds Buffalo spent a large part of previous appropriations upon a network of brick highways, leading every way from the city, one of the finest of which extends seventeen miles to Niagara Falls. "Such a highway properly built," says Perkins, "has practically no expense for maintenance."

UNIQUE MUSICAL ATTRACTION SUNDAY

Santa Fe Reading Rooms Will Present the Wellington Girls' Band in Elks' Theater.

The Santa Fe Girls' band of Wellington, Kansas, is the next attraction booked for Albuquerque by the Santa Fe reading rooms. The band will appear in Elks' theater Sunday night, and the usual house rules will prevail. The Wellington Girls' band, under the direction of S. D. Waynick, is decidedly unique and a very clever musical organization. It is composed exclusively of young ladies, every one of whom is the daughter of a Santa Fe employe at Wellington.

The current number of the Santa Fe Employe's magazine says of this band:

Good Music on the Way.
The Santa Fe Girls' band of Wellington, Kan., composed of about forty young ladies, practically all of whom are members of the families of Santa Fe employes, will start out on February 23 to tour the reading rooms on the system.

This band has earned even more than a statewide reputation and we predict packed houses and appreciative audiences wherever they appear. You who appreciate good music should without fail go to hear them.

Here is the personnel:
Director, F. E. Price; manager, S. D. Waynick; chaperon, Mrs. S. D. Waynick; props, Victor Price, Russell Price; reader, Daisy Wilson; vocalists, Pauline Waynick, Goldie Fahn; cornets, Irene Osborne, Pauline Osborne, Marie Thompson, Mary Lambie, Blanche Allen, Velma Alasco, Edna Davis; clarinets, Grace Burns, Lorena Hunt, Mildred Waugh, Rybela Mathews, Bessie Whitman, Vaughnie Waynick, Jennie Nixon; saxophones, Marie Murphy, Vesta Kerns, Pansy McIntyre, Emily Bailey; altos, Jennie Phelps, Margaret Smith, Lola Bailey, Esther Liddle; baritone, Maud Price, Mildred Schwinn; trombones, Gladys Robinson, Pauline Nelson, Ruth Barker, Ruth McIntyre; basses, Ethel Snyder, Hazel Brunley, Bessie Nixon, Ruth Inheld; drums, Urael Loeburrow, Leah Knowles.

Harmony Four Coming.
The nine well known singers composing the Harmony Four, another reading room attraction, and an old time favorite, will be in Albuquerque for a short time Sunday night on their way west. The members of the Harmony Four, who are from Arkansas City have been in Albuquerque several times before and have many friends here. They will be in the city Sunday from 7 until 10 o'clock and will be glad to see their friends. They will sing in Albuquerque later in the season.

Order Necessary in Theater.
The house rules of the Elks' theater for the reading room entertainment should be kept in mind by the general public. Santa Fe employes with reserved seat checks have the right of way, and remaining seats are open to the general public when the doors are opened by the house usher.

Persons taking advantage of the hospitality of the Santa Fe reading rooms should have sufficient courtesy to observe ordinary quiet in the theater.

At the performance of "Everywoman" Tuesday night there was a continual roar of people leaving the house, talking or moving about, causing what might have been serious annoyance to a less experienced company of performers.

Costly Speed.
Orville Wright, at a dinner in his honor in New York, talked about the fast French monoplane which now make 150 miles an hour. "They're very fast," said Mr. Wright, "but they're—"

"Fast indeed!" interrupted a young millionaire. "Mr. Wright, is there anything on earth those machines can't overtake?"

"Yes," said Mr. Wright, with a frown, "there's one thing they can't overtake, and that's their own running expenses."

PRETTY ROMANCE IS THAT OF 'LAVENDER AND OLD LACE'

Fascinating Story to Be Played at Elks' Theater Saturday Night With Sarah Padden as Star.

The story of "Lavender and Old Lace" is the romance of Carl Winfield and Ruth Thorne, both of the newspaper profession, who meet as they are spending their vacation in a quaint little village by the sea. They come to know Miss Ainslie, a dainty little woman, who loves lavender and old lace and other beautiful things. There is a mystery in her life and how Carl most strangely enters into that mystery forms some of the most fascinating pages of the tale.

"Lavender and Old Lace" first appeared ten years ago and it is today in demand at every public library, as their well-thumbed copies attest. It has had forty printings.

The general expectation that some day this delightful romance would be dramatized has been realized. The stage version has been prepared by David G. Fischer and a company of whose ability much praise is heard is on tour in the piece. It will be offered here on Saturday night at the Elks' theater. The production is by the United Play Co. (Inc.), which has many successes to its credit. Sarah Padden, the delightful young dramatic star, will appear in the leading role, supported by a company of much merit.

Moose Sanitarium Committee Will Arrive Here on Thursday to Inspect City's Advantages

Men in Charge of Locating Two Million Dollar Institution Will Be Shown What Albuquerque Has to Offer.

IMPORTANT MEETING AT CLUB TOMORROW

The committee of the national Loyal Order of Moose, entrusted with the task of selecting a site for the two million dollar tuberculosis sanitarium to be established by the city, will arrive in this city Tuesday. While it is not known certainly, it is understood this committee consists of three men. The committee will spend a day or so here, making a thorough inspection of possible sites for the great institution and hearing the claims of this city to the finest climate in the world presented by the Commercial club and citizens.

The committee has been visiting Colorado Springs and other towns where people are seeking to land the great sanitarium.

There is no doubt that so far as climatic advantages for the tuberculosis are concerned, Albuquerque has the rest of the Rocky mountain region beat. It has already been decided that the sanitarium is to be in this part of the country. The committee of the Commercial club headed by C. O. Cushman, named to take up the matter of presenting the city's advantages, and which recently supervised the publication of a booklet on the city's incomparable climate, has made elaborate preparations to make the best possible and most convincing showing for Albuquerque and is optimistic of success.

The visitors will be taken all over the city and environs in automobiles and shown possible sites for the sanitarium. In the evening, after being filled with facts and figures by the citizens, they will be guests at a banquet, according to tentative plans which will be completed at an important meeting to be held tomorrow night at the club. At this meeting will be present directors of the Commercial club, members of the club sanitarium committee and Moose committee, and local real estate men. The most important thing to be discussed will be possible sites. A site of 500 to 600 acres, with enough farming land for a big sanitarium farm, is desired. The national Moose ask no donation from the city, seeking to find only the best possible place for a great institution for the successful treatment and the cure of sufferers from the White Plague.

That Albuquerque has all the best of it in this matter has been fully demonstrated by the testimony of experts and specialists and persons who have tried every climate in the world offering the advantages of pure air, sunshine and dryness. There is little doubt if the effort is properly made, backed by the united boasting of the people of Albuquerque, that the city may land the sanitarium. It will be one of the greatest things ever secured by any southwestern city.

"The Filipinos will get their independence, but not for years to come. The Filipinos are intelligent, but they are not precocious. They don't resemble little Willie."
The speaker was Representative Gorman of Illinois. He continued: "Little Willie is really too precocious. I met him the other day with his schoolbag under his arm."
"Well, well," said I, "and so you go to school now, eh?"
"Sure Mike," said little Willie. "Ain't I over?"
"And do you love your teacher?" I asked.
"Aber nit," said little Willie. "The old hen's too old for me."—Washington Star.
